

CENTRAL
AUSTRALIA PLAN

Learning and Training on Country

More opportunities are growing across Central Australia - helping people learn new skills, build confidence, and stay connected to Country.

Backed by a $85 million investment, this work is supporting real change across communities.

WHAT THIS LOOKS LIKE

More funding and support for schools to help young people stay engaged

Training hubs and pathways being developed closer to community

Learning opportunities on Country, with young people being Junior Rangers

Leadership training for people who are board members

Stronger pathways into jobs and future opportunities

LOCAL IMPACT

People are building skills, creating pathways into jobs, and growing strong futures in their communities.

WHY IT MATTERS

Learning and training support long-term opportunities - helping people stay in community while building a future for themselves and their families.

LOOKING AHEAD

More training and learning opportunities will continue to grow.

Get involved in your community.
